"With the Dutch troops' pullout, Canada has reopened talks of [a] quick Afghanistan withdrawal ahead of the schedule as its nation strongly opposes the Afghan war and prefers a road to peace. To make the matter worse, the US's closest ally country, Pakistan's president was quoted in an interview published in France as saying 'Coalition forces are losing war against Taliban in Afghanistan.'"

"As things stand, there is a growing tendency among the mainstream media to unveil the facts and figures of the war and what is going on in Afghanistan under the cover of 'War on Terror.' In parallel with this, WikiLeaks' editor-in-chief said he would not withhold the mountains of classified information on Afghan war from disclosure under the pressure from the Pentagon and CIA, adding the massive classified information would blow the US cover and lift the lid on its covert activities in Afghanistan and the drug-smuggling from Afghanistan into USA."

"On the other hand, the Associated Press has published a confirmed and precise report, denying the NATO claim that its soldiers killed in Afghanistan over the past nine years brings the NATO troops' fatalities to a total of 1500 . According to the Associated Press count, the deaths and injuries take the NATO soldiers killed in Afghanistan since the US invasion of Afghanistan to 40,000 (forty thousand), bringing the US and allies soldiers killed in Afghanistan since the collapse of Taliban to 36,413, and the injuries to more than 30,000."

"According to the Associated Press release, the overall number of foreign soldiers killed over the 9-year long Afghan war hits 44,135, taking the injury toll to some 30,000, giving no further details to determine any country with highest death toll."

"In view of these facts, the western and US-influenced mainstream media confirms the report issued by the Associated Press."

"It is believed that the US is on the verge of failure militarily and morally and every step taken by it arouses intense anger and strong resentment among[st] [the] Afghan nation who can never tolerate the civilian casualties in Afghanistan...and the fact remains that US is to kill friends and allies as a means of subjugation to its will...and power, at the same time, the US forces are morally bound by some of their religious circles to increase obscenity among the Afghan masses and make them show total disregard for Islam and deviation against it, and have the Afghan masses commit every wrongdoing and obscenity regardless of their religious and moral values, whereas they are not ready for the betrayal of their own religion and sacrosanctity at any cost."

“It is high time the US realized the sensitivity and enormity of the situation and the fact that the victory on the ground against Mujahideen in Afghanistan is not above zero, as the Afghan Islam-loving nation has never been subjugated throughout the Afghan history, which is why the brave Mujahideen have brought the coalition of 43 countries to its knee[s] and caused the US and its allie[d] soldiers [to] undergo mental-healing diseases who would rather commit suicide than fight against Mujahideen.”
